

THE SHAWNEE LUMBER CO.

1033 KANSAS AVENUE, TOPEKA, KANSAS.

We Want Your Trade. We Will Show You That It Is to Your Interest to Get Our Prices When You Are in the Market for Anything in Our Line

GEN. WARD GONE.

Commandant at Ft. Riley Now on Way to Seattle.

Will Reach Statutory Retirement Age Next March.

TAKES ABSENCE LEAVE

Participated in Expeditions Against Nez Perce Indians.

Detailed Inspector General in Year of 1904.

Junction City, Kan., Dec. 6.—General Frederick K. Ward, commandant of Fort Riley, and one of the best known officers in the service, last night departed for Seattle, where he with his family will reside.

The general will reach the statutory retirement age on March 15, 1911, and before that time will avail himself of the leave of absence of three and one-half months.

General Ward was born at Newark, O., March 19, 1847. Entering the military academy July 1, 1866, he graduated and was appointed second lieutenant, First cavalry, June 15, 1870. In 1871 and 1872 he was engaged in surveying work on several posts in the northwest, and in 1874 was appointed aide-de-camp to the commanding general, department of Columbia, Col. Jefferson C. Davis. In 1875 he was relieved as aide and rejoined his regiment and participated in several precautionary expeditions in which Joseph's band of Nez Perce Indians figured.

Promoted first lieutenant November 11, 1875, in command of Troop G, he took part in several scouts occasioned by the trouble between Mexicans and Indians until the middle of the year 1877, he, with troop and regiment, participated in Nez Perce campaign. On June 22, 1878, he participated in the engagement at Silver Creek, Ore., in which the command of cavalry engaged and defeated a large band of Indians at Blue Mountains. He was appointed an acting major in 1880, and after many changes of station, being in Washington, D. C., at one time, was relieved from duty in 1884 and rejoined his regiment.

Promoted captain, February 11, 1887. In 1888 he was in charge of signal instruction in Arizona, and so ably was the work performed that he received a very strong recommendation on the matter. In 1894, he participated in a pursuit of the renegade Apache "Kid," but without successful ending, as the "Kid" has not to this day been located. During the Spanish-American war, he followed with his troop from Fort Grant, Ariz., to Fort Riley, Chickamauga Park, Ga., Lakeland, Fla., Mautauk, Long Island, and finally to Fort Koogh, Mont., the part of the regiment to which he belonged not going to the front in Cuba or Porto Rico.

Promoted major, and assigned to the Tenth cavalry, July 11, 1898, and transferred to the First cavalry. Went with the regiment to the Philippine islands, arriving September 20, 1900. Acting inspector general of first district and third separate brigade—on the old south line in Bantague province—and performed that duty until 1903, when he was promoted lieutenant colonel and assigned to the Fourteenth cavalry, but transferred by cablegram to the First cavalry. Immediately on promotion and transfer, he left the Philippines, being relieved as acting inspector general of the third separate brigade, and joined his regiment at Fort Clark, Tex.

In 1904, detailed as inspector general and remained therein until promoted colonel and assigned to the Second cavalry June 23, 1905. He was again detailed in the inspector general's department in 1906, and was relieved and assigned to the Seventh cavalry May 8, 1907, meeting his new regiment at Fort Riley, Kan., on its return from the Philippine islands, July 19, 1907.

Gave Mother Wrong Glass. Ottawa, Kan., Dec. 6.—When Miss Carrie McCarthy responded to a call from her sick mother for a glass of water she failed to notice that the contents were dark and handed it to the sick woman. Not until she heard the cry of her mother did she realize that she had given her the wrong glass and in place of water had handed her a glass containing a mixture of carbolic acid, alcohol and water used for external applications. A doctor was hastily summoned and for a time the life of the woman was despaired of. In the afternoon, however, her condition was improved, and she was said to be past the danger point.

WANT JUDGE POLLOCK NAMED. Springfield, Mo., Lawyers Boost for Federal Jurist.

Springfield, Mo., Dec. 6.—News from Washington that President Taft is considering Judge John C. Pollock of Kansas, among others, for appointment as associate justice of the United States supreme court has interested Springfield lawyers who have practiced before the Kansas jurist. Judge Pollock has held court in Springfield when former Federal Judge John F. Phillips was unable to come for the regular term. He is considered by local lawyers as one of the most learned judges who ever presided over federal court here and his appointment would please many.

The fact that Judge Pollock, although he is well known in the west, is practically a stranger to official Washington, is the cause of much comment.

He is said to be a strong Roosevelt man and a friend of the former president. He has been on the federal bench of Kansas since 1903.

Pollock is an Ohio man and a United Presbyterian. He was born in 1859, graduated from Franklin college in 1882 and settled in Newton, Kansas, where he was admitted to the bar in 1884. He served as a justice of the Kansas supreme court from January, 1901, to December, 1903, when President Roosevelt appointed him judge of the district court.

HERINGTON PLANNING RACES. Driving Club Will Hold Matinee Meetings Every Two Weeks.

Herington, Kan., Dec. 6.—A number of the gentlemen here and the vicinity around will organize a gentlemen's driving club. The idea is to hold matinee races every two weeks at the race track.

The only prize that will be offered will be in the form of a silver cup, that will be contested for at each matinee. No member will be allowed to hold the cup for more than three matinees. This will be done in order to keep any one party from buying a winner in and take all the glory from the less speedy horses that will belong to members of the club.

OLDEST CAT IN KANSAS DEAD. Leon Wary of Salina Had Pet Twenty-Six Years.

Salina, Kan., Dec. 6.—The oldest cat in the state of Kansas is dead. The family pet, reared by the family of Leon Wary, living north of the city, passed away at the age of 26 years.

About five years ago, when 21 years old, it was reported to be the oldest cat in the state so that there is no doubt as to its claim to be the oldest cat in Kansas when it died. When the cat died it did not have a tooth left in its mouth.

Three years ago a remarkably old dog belonging to the Warys died at the farm home. The dog then was 23 years old and hardly able to take care of himself.

POULTRY SHOW AT NEWTON. Central Kansas Breeders Have One of Largest Organizations.

Newton, Kan., Dec. 6.—Secretary E. D. Martin of the Central Kansas Poultry association reports the opening day of the poultry show at Newton as being satisfactory.

Dr. A. O. Harty of this city is president of the association, E. D. Martin, secretary, and C. C. Lindamood of Walton, superintendent. The membership is scattered all over the state. The judges of this show are M. S. Pitt of Pawnee, Okla.; D. A. Stoner, Wichita, and H. P. Rankin, Lincoln, Neb.

The Central Kansas association may almost be considered a Newton organization, it having been organized and continually boosted in this city. It now is one of the largest poultry shows in the west.

TO HELP INSANE.

Charities Conference at Beloit Adopts Resolutions.

Recommends Changes in Laws Regarding Children.

OPPOSES FEE SYSTEM.

Wants Officers and Courts on Adequate Salaries.

Other Items of General Interest to Kansas Readers.

Beloit, Kan., Dec. 6.—At the state board of charities conference held in Beloit last week resolutions were adopted recommending important changes in many of the county laws relating to children and insane persons. The resolutions were as follows:

Resolved, That there should be a public defense in criminal trials, either by a public attorney elected in each county for that purpose or by a paid attorney appointed by the court to defend a person accused of crime, and that witness fees in certain cases for the defendant's witnesses should be paid by the court.

Resolved, That we believe from the experience of juvenile judges of the state that fully sixty per cent of the cases of the delinquent and dependent children are attributable directly to the parents of these children and that we favor such additional legislation as will enable the juvenile or other courts to deal effectively with all parents of this kind.

Resolved, That the juvenile court law be so amended as to make it compulsory on the part of counties of more than 20,000 population to provide detention for the reception of children, and all the laws of the state pertaining to dependent, neglected and delinquent children should be made to harmonize and cover the field intended to be covered, prohibiting the sending of children to poor farms, and make the law clear with reference to the adoption of children.

Resolved, That the jurisdiction of the probate courts should be so amended as to include criminal and civil jurisdiction and that the court be known as a county court and in counties where the volume of work is too large, and place all officers and courts separate from the probate court.

Resolved, That we are opposed to the fee system and in favor of the adoption of a law which will abolish it and place all officers and courts on adequate salaries.

Resolved, That a reformatory for young women similar to the reformatory for young men should be established either in the central part of the state or in connection with some other of our state institutions, or the maximum age limit of the Girls' Industrial school be extended.

Resolved, That it is the sense of this conference that some special provision should be made for segregating the criminal insane from among the patients of the state hospitals for the insane and the inmates of the penal institutions.

Resolved, That as a new institution for the insane is needed, that the same should be located in the central part of the state with a large body of fertile land where an abundant water supply could be provided, and that the next session of the legislature should provide for the selection of a site and for preliminary work.

Resolved, That this conference use its best efforts with the next legislature to secure the passage of additional laws making effective our present statutes prohibiting marriage among the insane, epileptic and feeble-minded persons, and also proper legislation looking to the prevention of insanity.

Resolved, That it is the sentiment of this conference that desertion or willful neglect of family should be made to constitute a felony.

EAST DEMANDS JACK RABBITS.

New York Sends Order for 75 Dozen to Hutchinson.

Hutchinson, Kan., Dec. 6.—Jack rabbits at $1 each and not considered a toothsome viand either is an expensive proposition and appears to be unreasonable to the Kansas farmer, many of whom would be willing to pay a bounty to one who could rid them of this section. This price, even though they are not prepared for the banquet table, does not look very big to easterners but they realize that this price is all that makes them available for coursing meets that are to be held this winter on the courses of the clubs in the east.

K. C. Beck, sheriff-elect, has received an order for 75 dozen jack rabbits from Felchenthal Brothers of Chicago. These men have ordered the rabbits and must have them. They will dispose of them to the various clubs of the east, such as the Long Island Coursing club and various others, many of which are located in Pennsylvania.

The rabbits are caught by chasing into a net or corral.

HORSE MARKET NOW POOR. George Ennington, Buyer for New York Firm, Talks.

Salina, Kan., Dec. 6.—George Ennington of Abilene is in Salina buying horses for J. B. McQuinn of New York. He will take about a half car of horses out of Salina.

In speaking of the horse market Mr. Ennington said: "This horse market is rotten. The farmers want too much for their horses and the eastern markets are down. If the farmers around Salina want to get rid of their horses they will have to come down on the price a little."

GEN. CARR'S EARLY DAYS. Came to Fort Leavenworth First in Year 1851.

Leavenworth, Kan., Dec. 6.—General Eugene A. Carr, whose death was announced several days ago, may be regarded as one of the early Kansans. He was here at its birth and remained in this section until after the battle of Wilson's Creek, August 10, 1861, where he was wounded.

General Carr came first to Fort Leavenworth in 1851, a year following his graduation from West Point. While his service at Fort Leavenworth was not continuous, yet it was for the greater period up to the time of the war, his regular assignment being out in the summer to pursue Indians and returning in the fall for recuperation until the following spring. It was in pursuance of his summons sent from Fort Leavenworth in 1859, by the late E. G. Lowe, where cholera had broken out and was desolating entire families that General Summer sent Lieutenant Carr and Dr. Samuel L. Phillips to the frontier in campaigns against hostile tribes of Indians. In the early '60s he became colonel of the Sixth cavalry and in 1865 was promoted to major.

General Carr's military career was largely on the frontier in campaigns against hostile tribes of Indians. In the early '60s he became colonel of the Sixth cavalry and in 1865 was promoted to major.

It was understood at the time the president promised Gen. Carr's friends that if he would retire in a short time after his advancement that he would gladly confer the honor upon him. The reason for exacting this promise from General Carr's friends was due to the fact that he desired an opportunity before he retired to submit his application, saying that he never had given any such promise nor had he authorized any of his friends to make such a promise for him.

When the contest between the Free State and Anti-Slavery men broke out, Lieutenant Carr participated through its entire period, was for a time an aid to Governor Walker of the territory. His service after the civil war in which he was promoted to major, was largely on the frontier in campaigns against hostile tribes of Indians. In the early '60s he became colonel of the Sixth cavalry and in 1865 was promoted to major.

It was understood at the time the president promised Gen. Carr's friends that if he would retire in a short time after his advancement that he would gladly confer the honor upon him. The reason for exacting this promise from General Carr's friends was due to the fact that he desired an opportunity before he retired to submit his application, saying that he never had given any such promise nor had he authorized any of his friends to make such a promise for him.

When the contest between the Free State and Anti-Slavery men broke out, Lieutenant Carr participated through its entire period, was for a time an aid to Governor Walker of the territory. His service after the civil war in which he was promoted to major, was largely on the frontier in campaigns against hostile tribes of Indians. In the early '60s he became colonel of the Sixth cavalry and in 1865 was promoted to major.

It was understood at the time the president promised Gen. Carr's friends that if he would retire in a short time after his advancement that he would gladly confer the honor upon him. The reason for exacting this promise from General Carr's friends was due to the fact that he desired an opportunity before he retired to submit his application, saying that he never had given any such promise nor had he authorized any of his friends to make such a promise for him.

When the contest between the Free State and Anti-Slavery men broke out, Lieutenant Carr participated through its entire period, was for a time an aid to Governor Walker of the territory. His service after the civil war in which he was promoted to major, was largely on the frontier in campaigns against hostile tribes of Indians. In the early '60s he became colonel of the Sixth cavalry and in 1865 was promoted to major.

It was understood at the time the president promised Gen. Carr's friends that if he would retire in a short time after his advancement that he would gladly confer the honor upon him. The reason for exacting this promise from General Carr's friends was due to the fact that he desired an opportunity before he retired to submit his application, saying that he never had given any such promise nor had he authorized any of his friends to make such a promise for him.

When the contest between the Free State and Anti-Slavery men broke out, Lieutenant Carr participated through its entire period, was for a time an aid to Governor Walker of the territory. His service after the civil war in which he was promoted to major, was largely on the frontier in campaigns against hostile tribes of Indians. In the early '60s he became colonel of the Sixth cavalry and in 1865 was promoted to major.

It was understood at the time the president promised Gen. Carr's friends that if he would retire in a short time after his advancement that he would gladly confer the honor upon him. The reason for exacting this promise from General Carr's friends was due to the fact that he desired an opportunity before he retired to submit his application, saying that he never had given any such promise nor had he authorized any of his friends to make such a promise for him.

When the contest between the Free State and Anti-Slavery men broke out, Lieutenant Carr participated through its entire period, was for a time an aid to Governor Walker of the territory. His service after the civil war in which he was promoted to major, was largely on the frontier in campaigns against hostile tribes of Indians. In the early '60s he became colonel of the Sixth cavalry and in 1865 was promoted to major.

It was understood at the time the president promised Gen. Carr's friends that if he would retire in a short time after his advancement that he would gladly confer the honor upon him. The reason for exacting this promise from General Carr's friends was due to the fact that he desired an opportunity before he retired to submit his application, saying that he never had given any such promise nor had he authorized any of his friends to make such a promise for him.

When the contest between the Free State and Anti-Slavery men broke out, Lieutenant Carr participated through its entire period, was for a time an aid to Governor Walker of the territory. His service after the civil war in which he was promoted to major, was largely on the frontier in campaigns against hostile tribes of Indians. In the early '60s he became colonel of the Sixth cavalry and in 1865 was promoted to major.

It was understood at the time the president promised Gen. Carr's friends that if he would retire in a short time after his advancement that he would gladly confer the honor upon him. The reason for exacting this promise from General Carr's friends was due to the fact that he desired an opportunity before he retired to submit his application, saying that he never had given any such promise nor had he authorized any of his friends to make such a promise for him.

When the contest between the Free State and Anti-Slavery men broke out, Lieutenant Carr participated through its entire period, was for a time an aid to Governor Walker of the territory. His service after the civil war in which he was promoted to major, was largely on the frontier in campaigns against hostile tribes of Indians. In the early '60s he became colonel of the Sixth cavalry and in 1865 was promoted to major.

It was understood at the time the president promised Gen. Carr's friends that if he would retire in a short time after his advancement that he would gladly confer the honor upon him. The reason for exacting this promise from General Carr's friends was due to the fact that he desired an opportunity before he retired to submit his application, saying that he never had given any such promise nor had he authorized any of his friends to make such a promise for him.

When the contest between the Free State and Anti-Slavery men broke out, Lieutenant Carr participated through its entire period, was for a time an aid to Governor Walker of the territory. His service after the civil war in which he was promoted to major, was largely on the frontier in campaigns against hostile tribes of Indians. In the early '60s he became colonel of the Sixth cavalry and in 1865 was promoted to major.

It was understood at the time the president promised Gen. Carr's friends that if he would retire in a short time after his advancement that he would gladly confer the honor upon him. The reason for exacting this promise from General Carr's friends was due to the fact that he desired an opportunity before he retired to submit his application, saying that he never had given any such promise nor had he authorized any of his friends to make such a promise for him.

When the contest between the Free State and Anti-Slavery men broke out, Lieutenant Carr participated through its entire period, was for a time an aid to Governor Walker of the territory. His service after the civil war in which he was promoted to major, was largely on the frontier in campaigns against hostile tribes of Indians. In the early '60s he became colonel of the Sixth cavalry and in 1865 was promoted to major.

LOOKING FOR MEN

Champions of Missouri Valley Short on Material.

Nebraska Authorities Planning Scouting System.

TO INTEREST HIGHS.

Will Bring the High School Athletes to Lincoln.

State Athletic Events to Be the Drawing Cards.

Lincoln, Dec. 6.—The work of turning out winning football, baseball, basketball and track teams at the University of Nebraska has demonstrated to those in charge of athletics at the Cornhusker institution that the training must begin in the high schools over the state and must be of such a nature as to enlist the services of the crack athletes for their native state.

Especially has that been true in recent years. Scores of promising players in every department of college sports, attracted by the glitter of eastern colleges, forsake the state institution. Football players refused to enter the university in the past because eastern colleges had taken an interest in their work while still enrolled in the high school. Nebraska's coaches were robbed of the material which should have been their. Omaha high school athletes were particularly attracted to eastern schools and for the first time in years Omaha has presented by several promising players on the gridiron in the season just closed. This is but a starter, it is thought, and from now on the football talent of the state will be devoted to the state university.

To this end the university authorities have outlined a plan whereby the athletes will come into closer touch with the Cornhusker interests. The annual track and field meet between the high schools of the state held at Lincoln every spring was the stepping stone toward the athletic state championship to hold a basketball tournament in the university armory in the early spring. High schools in all sections of the state will be invited to participate and it is thought that the winner of the tournament can rightfully lay claim to the championship of the state in basketball. The tournament will last for two days, as outlined by the athletic board, starting on Friday and closing Saturday night. It will be held either the first or third week in March, and Manager Earl O. Eager is asking high schools over the state to make the state open so that they may participate in the contests.

The failure of Nebraska to secure promising football material following the departure of "Bummy" Booth until the last two years is assigned to the lack of interest in high school athletics of the university athletic board and other members of student body. But the board and the students are now thoroughly alive to the possibilities of the situation and from now eastern schools will encounter opposition when they seek to lure the high school star from the service of his own state institution.

SOCCER GAINING IN STATE.

The English Idea of Football Was Played by Four Schools.

Soccer football has met with some favor in Kansas during the past season and has created a growing interest. Friends college at Wichita took up the game last year. Baker, State Normal and Kansas got out teams this season. The games played this year were as follows:

Friends 5; Baker 0.
Friends 0; Baker 1.
Baker 1; K. U. 1.
Baker 0; K. U. 2.
Friends 1; Normal 1.

Soccer, being something of a basketball game with the feet, is fast and spectacular. The English have soccer leagues as also does Holland. A persistent fight in Canada with little success. The coast universities have taken it up since the Leland Stanford, Jr., university dropped the American game as too brutal.

JIMMY SULLIVAN RELEASED.

Lincoln Club Will Have a New Manager.

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 6.—James Sullivan, manager of the Lincoln baseball club, was last evening granted his unconditional release. President D. C. Despain has a number of men in mind for the position, but is negotiating with a major league man whom he hopes to secure as playing manager.

BOSTON NATIONAL CLUB SOLD.

Will Be Owned at Home and Tenney Will Manage.

Boston, Dec. 6.—The Boston National league club which has been owned in Pittsburgh was transferred today to James J. Phelan, a Boston banker, who represents a syndicate of local men. It is understood Fred Tenney, formerly of the New York and Boston national league clubs and a stockholder in the local club, will be manager.

Mining Term Failed to Pay.

Manhattan, Dec. 6.—The K. S. A. C. Athletic association will give no big banquet this year on December 10 as has usually been done in the past. The affair has always been one of the college events of the season but this year the association came out $400 in the hole, which is the season for holding no banquet. This is the time when the athletes receive their "K's" but this will be done in a very quiet manner this year. Each member of the association is digging up $1 each to pay for the K's and sweaters for the athletes.

Kansan III at Annapolis.

Annapolis, Md., Dec. 6.—Garnett Hulings of Pennsylvania, Philip D. Beach of Connecticut and Ray W. Wakeman of Kansas, a substitute guard on the football team, have been taken to the naval hospital, suffering from typhoid fever. These cases, the naval authorities authorities maintain, are due to the same source of infection to which all the cases recently reported are attributed. There are now twenty-nine cases of typhoid under treatment at the naval hospital.

National Contracts and Releases.

New York, Dec. 6.—President Lynch of the National league has approved the following contracts:

With Chicago—Victor S. Blair and

FIRST MEETING

OF THE

TOPEKA BRANCH

OF THE

National Association of Manufacturers & Business Men

—WILL BE HELD—

Tuesday Evening, December 6, 1910 AT 8 O'CLOCK

514-516 Kansas Avenue (Second Floor)

E. B. ROSE, National Secretary

will address the meeting

All persons interested in Personal Liberty and Resubmission of the question of Prohibition to the electors of the state are invited. Admission free.

We Are Expert Packers

of Furniture for Shipment or Storage

Call either Phone 320 for rates

Topeka Transfer and Storage Co.

406 East Sixth Street

The regular annual meeting of the stockholders of the Merchants National Bank of Topeka, Kansas, will be held at its banking office Tuesday, January 10, 1911, between the hours of 3 and 5 P. M., for the purpose of electing a board of directors for the ensuing year and for the transaction of such other business as may legally come before the meeting.

F. M. Bonebrake, Cashier.

Rock Island		Trains to Kansas City		Fast Time No Stops Double Track
USE THE Rock Island		NEXT TIME		Never too Busy to Answer Questions
Phones 384 H. H. HUNT, City Pass. Agt.
Lv. Topeka	Ret. Lv. K.C.	Lv. Topeka	Ret. Lv. K.C.	Lv. Topeka	Ret. Lv. K.C.
4:30 A.M.	7:55 A.M.	4:30 A.M.	7:55 A.M.	4:30 A.M.	7:55 A.M.
6:30 A.M.	9:55 A.M.	6:30 A.M.	9:55 A.M.	6:30 A.M.	9:55 A.M.
1:35 P.M.	10:40 A.M.	1:35 P.M.	10:40 A.M.	1:35 P.M.	10:40 A.M.
3:15 P.M.	11:20 A.M.	3:15 P.M.	11:20 A.M.	3:15 P.M.	11:20 A.M.
5:15 P.M.	6:10 P.M.	5:15 P.M.	6:10 P.M.	5:15 P.M.	6:10 P.M.
7:55 P.M.	10:10 P.M.	7:55 P.M.	10:10 P.M.	7:55 P.M.	10:10 P.M.
11:35 P.M.	11:00 P.M.	11:35 P.M.	11:00 P.M.	11:35 P.M.	11:00 P.M.

Frank Pfeffer, with Cincinnati—R. C. Hobbs, with New York—R. W. Marquard, Arthur E. Wilson and George R. Witte, with Philadelphia—G. C. A. Miller, with Brooklyn to Louisville, A. A. A. Miller, by Philadelphia to Scranton, N. Y., S. L. "Kittie" Knight.

Pays 53.3 Cents for Silver.

Washington, Dec. 6.—The treasury today accepted a bid to deliver 100,000 fine ounces of silver at the Denver mint at the rate of 53.3 cents per fine ounce. This is approximately two cents higher than the last silver purchase for coinage purposes.

Is Given Six Weeks in Jail.

London, December 6.—H. A. Franklin, the male suffragette who attempted to attack Home Secretary Churchill on November 27, was today sentenced to six weeks in jail. Franklin is a nephew of Postmaster General Samuel.

Facts for Weak Women

Nine-tenths of all the sickness of women is due to some derangement or disease of the organs distinctly feminine. Such sickness can be cured—is cured every day by

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

It Makes Weak Women Strong, Sick Women Well.

It acts directly on the organs affected and is at the same time a general restorative tonic for the whole system. It cures female complaint right in the privacy of home. It makes unnecessary the disagreeable questioning, examinations and local treatment so universally insisted upon by doctors, and so abhorrent to every modest woman.

We shall not particularize here as to the symptoms of those peculiar affections incident to women, but those wanting full information as to their symptoms and means of positive cure are